

A TUITION-FREE training program for state, local, campus and tribal law enforcement, firefighters, and emergency responders

Department of Homeland Security, Federal Law Enforcement Training Center presents:

First Responder Training Program (FRTP)

Location: Bettendorf, Iowa
Dates: July 27 – 29, 2010

Program Focus:

The FRTP is a three-day training program that covers the topics most applicable to first responders who include: law enforcement, firefighters and emergency medical services personnel. These emergency response professionals must be trained and equipped for virtually any situation, including criminal acts, natural disasters and other large-scale emergencies. A system of command will be needed to achieve a coordinated and effective incident response. Further, the psychological impact upon first responders needs to be considered following any critical incident. The FRTP will provide training, guidelines, and resources to address these, as well as other important issues.

- Past Responses to Major Incidents
- Weapons of Mass Destruction
- Safety Planning for Schools/Workplaces/Public Places
- Rapid Deployment to an Active Shooter
- Incident Command System/Critical Incident Response
- Critical Incident Stress Management
- Dealing with Emotionally Disturbed Persons

Who Should Attend:

Although the focus of the program is towards the first response of law enforcement personnel, emergency services personnel are encouraged to attend. All emergency personnel responding to a major incident need to understand the unique operational aspects of the respective services.

Cost: TUITION-FREE (Attendees are responsible for all travel, lodging and meal expenses).
